

SABA Adds 6th Graders To Student Population

By unanimous vote at the School of the Arts for Boys Academy (SABA) December school board meeting, the SABA Board of Directors approved the addition of 6th grade students to the school's population. With this decision, SABA will begin our first year in operation serving boys in Chatham County and surrounding communities in grades 3-to-6.

Accordingly, all boys in rising grades 4-to-6 who were provisionally accepted at SABA earlier in 2021 are officially enrolled at our school for the 2022-23 school year.

SABA Lead Administrator Valencia Toomer notes, "As we continued our planning for opening in August we recognized that over 2 dozen boys had already been provisionally accepted to SABA during our accelerated recruitment period. It made sense to keep these students in the SABA family and to accommodate them in our plans."

SABA Board President Dr. Allyson Alston concurs, adding "We're excited by the new dimensions SABA will experience with the inclusion of a sixth grade class this year. In addition to expanding our curriculum offerings, SABA will now be in position to introduce interscholastic sports as well. We're looking forward to all the positive developments this decision will bring."

The only all-boys charter public school in North Carolina, SABA holds "Regular Timeline" status with the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and is on schedule to open our school in August 2022 with a chartered population of 116 students, now distributed among four grades of classes (grades 3-to-6).

Open Enrollment Campaign For SABA 2022-23 School Year Begins January 3

Families of boys in grades 3-to-6 will be able to apply for enrollment in SABA's inaugural school year beginning on January 3, 2022. Visiting the SABA website will provide parents & guardians with information about our school, details on the application process, and access to the registration form itself.

SABA will accept applications to our free public charter school through April 30, 2022, at which time the school will conduct a lottery to select our first-year students. In keeping with the school's charter, 60% of all slots will be reserved for students whose families qualify for free or reduced lunches. Boys will be selected for admission at random using computer-generated technology, so that each application has a fair opportunity to be chosen.

Board Member/Artist In Residence Mike Wiley comments, “This is an unbelievably exciting time in the life of our new school. It’s yet another milestone. The time has come to welcome the SABA boys who will play a defining role in building the foundation of SABA in a rich, diverse, culturally responsive environment. We will be sharing a journey of learning and discovery for as much as a full decade in some cases. We can’t wait to meet these young men and families, and to get started!”

Designed specifically to address the opportunity gap that young boys – predominantly black and brown boys -- experience in conventional schools, the SABA learning model will help our students build their character, use critical thinking skills, test innovative ideas and present information in a clear, concise and creative manner. Teachers and staff will build positive relationships with all students, creating an atmosphere of mutual respect, love, and compassion.
